New Training Schools

At its quarterly meeting on February 16, 2023, the Commission approved the requests of two organizations to become certified training schools. The Department of Financial Services, Division of Investigative and Forensic Services, in Region XV and the Escambia County Sheriff's Office in Region I were approved for Type "B" certification which grants them the authority to deliver Commission-approved law enforcement basic recruit training program courses and Commission-approved advanced and specialized training program courses.

Prior to being approved by the Commission, both organizations had to have approval from their respective regional training council to apply for certification and then participate in a needs analysis conducted by Commission staff. The needs analysis included a complete inspection of all of the proposed training facilities and interviews with the agencies and other training schools in the area to help determine if an unmet training need existed.

The director of the Division of Investigative and Forensic Services Training School is Bill Bierbaum, and the director of the Escambia County Sheriff's Office Training School is Colonel Jeremy Small. Please join us in congratulating both of these organizations for their approval as Commission-certified training schools.
