The inductees were nominated by the Florida Sheriffs Association, Florida Police Chiefs Association, Police Benevolent Association, Fraternal Order of Police and the State Law Enforcement Chiefs' Association and then were selected by a committee. The inductees were approved by Governor Ron DeSantis and Florida's Cabinet on February 26, 2019.

CHARLES F. DUPONT

MONROE COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE

Nominated by the Florida Sheriffs Association

Charles DuPont was born in 1861 in Tampa to Romeo and Amanda DuPont, who were both freed slaves. Following the Civil War, he moved to Key West to become a carpenter and a Republican activist. In 1889, he was inaugurated as Florida's first popularly elected African-American Sheriff. The Monroe County Grand Jury publicly commended Sheriff DuPont and his deputies for their "gentlemanly and courteous behavior," and a circuit court judge wrote the governor that there was not a more efficient and polite officer than Sheriff DuPont. In 1891, he was ordered to bring two pro-Spain Cubans to Tampa for trial; due to protests, he kept the two men in Key West to avoid a lynching. The two men were tried four times before they were finally found not guilty. He continued to be a strong advocate for equal justice under the law after his term as sheriff ended by founding the local chapter of the NAACP, just two years after the movement began. Sheriff DuPont held a great respect from the community of Key West, which was referred to as the "freest town in the south."

MANUEL L. GONZALEZ

MIAMI-DADE POLICE DEPARTMENT

Nominated by the Florida Police Benevolent Association

Manuel Gonzalez started his career at the Miami-Dade Police Department in 2011 and continues to serve there today. While working off-duty, Officer Gonzalez was involved in an exchange of gunfire and was struck multiple times. Although seriously injured, he fought back for the safety of the citizens around him, killing the suspect. Because of his heroic actions, Gonzalez was awarded the Miami-Dade Police Department Gold Medal of Valor for performing an outstanding act of bravery, and the Purple Heart Award for suffering a serious injury on duty. He was also recognized as the 2017 Police Officer of the Year by the Police Benevolent Association and as the 2017 Lee McGehee Police Officer of the Year by the Florida Police Chiefs Association. Officer Gonzalez was recently named the Florida Attorney General's 2018 Law Enforcement Officer of the Year. He is seen by the communities he serves as a true leader and is proud to still serve in law enforcement.

PAUL R. HOOVER

FLORIDA FISH AND WILDLIFE CONSERVATION COMMISSION

Nominated by the State Law Enforcement Chiefs' Association

Paul Hoover began his 30-year commitment to the protection of Florida's natural resources in 1973 as a game manager with the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission. Not long after, he fulfilled his lifelong dream when he transferred to the Division of Law Enforcement as an officer. He was recognized as Florida's Wildlife Officer of the Year in 1977. When the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) was established, he became the chief of inland operations and later served as chief of staff. During this time, he helped lay the foundation of the FWC Division of Law Enforcement. Paul also attended and graduated from the 1997 FBI National Academy. Throughout his career, he mentored and guided hundreds of law enforcement officers and was recognized by various national conservation groups, receiving the Guy Bradley Award for Outstanding Leadership and Professional Excellence in 2005. An avid runner, he coached Wakulla High School's cross country and track teams. He was killed by a hit-and-run driver while on an evening run in 2017. The track at Wakulla High School is now named the Coach Paul Hoover Track and Field, and the run he created to support the cross country program was named the Paul Hoover Memorial 5K Freedom Run in his honor.

ALPHONSO LOFTON

FLORIDA HIGHWAY PATROL

Nominated by the State Law Enforcement Chiefs' Association

Alphonso Lofton joined the Florida Highway Patrol (FHP) in 1970 after witnessing an FHP trooper investigating a hit-and-run accident, becoming the Patrol's first African-American trooper. After graduation from the FHP academy, he was assigned to Field Operations in Miami's Troop E. In 1973, he was promoted to Traffic Homicide Investigator, and he was assigned as a recruiter in 1981. He was appointed to FHP's Equal Employment Opportunity Committee to recruit more African-Americans into the Florida Highway Patrol. His recruitment efforts earned him recognition from the patrol and the community, receiving the Martin Luther King Brotherhood Award and a commendation from the Florida Commission of Human Relations for his recruitment efforts. Trooper Lofton succumbed to multiple sclerosis in 1984 at the age of 39. Because of Lofton's outstanding service to the citizens of Florida, the 1989 Florida Legislature dedicated the Troop E Headquarters building in Miami to his memory.

IMPLEMENTATION OF A SINGLE Basic Abilities Test (BAT)

The official roll-out of the single statewide Basic Abilities Test (BAT) administered by Pearson VUE will occur on August 15, 2019. The cost of the BAT is $39 and will be offered at more than 130 locations throughout the state. If a BAT is administered by any vendor other than Pearson VUE after August 14, 2019, the BAT will be declared invalid and will not be added to the examinee's Global Profile Sheet in the Automated Training Management System (ATMS).

All test sites that have a contract in place with Pearson VUE on August 15, 2019 will have the ability to administer this test. Any test site that does not have a contract in place with Pearson VUE by this date will not be able to administer the BAT on the official roll-out. However, there is no deadline to become a BAT test site. Test centers may apply to administer the BAT any time within the life of the contract between FDLE and Pearson VUE by visiting <https://home.pearsonvue.com/For-test-centers/Get-started.aspx>.

Examinees taking the BAT via Pearson VUE will be given their unofficial exam results upon exiting the test site. However, these exam results are considered unofficial and will be given to examinees for their records only. Since paper results can too easily be falsified, FDLE has decided against issuing official results on paper and will exclusively use ATMS as the sole repository of the BAT results. The official result will be available in ATMS the day following the candidate's exam.

If you have any questions, please contact the Research and Assessment Section at 850-410-8602.

2019 Training Center Directors Workshop

The 21st Annual Training Center Directors Workshop was held at the FDLE Headquarters from May 21 through May 24, 2019. A total of 23 people attended the full workshop with others coming in for specific topic areas. The workshop provided a valuable opportunity for new directors to network and to learn some best practices. The attendees received 28 hours of training that may be used towards their instructor retraining requirements.

The workshop was started in 2002 to provide new training center directors and their staff with training on the rules and requirements related to training center certification, staffing and facilities along with information about officer training, instructor certification and requirements related to the Standards and Training Trust Fund. To date, a total of 413 directors, coordinators and fiscal agents representing all 40 training schools have attended a workshop. Over the years, the workshop has continued to evolve based on feedback from the participants to provide the most current and relevant information possible.

The 22nd Annual Training Center Directors Workshop planning has already begun. It is tentatively scheduled for early 2020. Be on the lookout for further information later in the year.

A number of mass shootings have occurred in Florida in recent years. In February, Governor DeSantis directed the department to develop a unified statewide strategy for identifying and managing threats of targeted violence and associated training for law enforcement officers. As the governor articulated in his letter to FDLE Commissioner Swearingen, "We have entered a new era of policing. It is of paramount importance that we identify threats before they occur, and do everything within our power to prevent individuals from carrying out acts of targeted violence."

In response, the department initiated a steering committee including members of the Florida Police Chiefs and Sheriffs Associations, the Attorney General's Office and FDLE. These individuals have knowledge of threat assessments and progressive policing strategies and were asked to help lead this initiative. The committee met in April to discuss law enforcement agency roles in threat assessments.

Earlier this month, the department held a meeting involving steering committee members, state agency heads and other partners to hear presentations from internationally recognized experts from the Los Angeles Police Department, US Secret Service and Naval Criminal Investigative Service about protocols and practices that lead to successful threat assessment implementation. Presenters also shared models of threat assessments in Florida at various stages of implementation, including the Palm Beach and Pinellas County Sheriff's Offices and Palm Beach County School Board and Miami-Dade Police Departments.

DRAFTING A THREAT ASSESSMENT STRATEGY IN FLORIDA

The department and steering committee members will work together to draft a model Florida threat assessment strategy and associated implementation plan for law enforcement agencies for presentation later this Summer. In addition, various threat assessment subject matter experts and FDLE staff have been meeting to develop training for frontline and senior law enforcement officers. They anticipate proposing basic and advanced training curricula at the Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission meeting in November.

A focus on identifying and deterring persons on a pathway to violence will make Florida safer. This comprehensive threat assessment strategy will center on training, information sharing and prevention.

For additional information regarding threat assessment training development, please contact Judd Butler at (850) 410-8654 or juddbutler@fdle.state.fl.us.
