The Florida Law Enforcement Officers' Hall of Fame 2021 Nominees

The Florida Law Enforcement Officers' Hall of Fame recognizes and honors law enforcement officers who put their lives on the line for the safety and protection of Florida's citizens and visitors through their works, service and exemplary accomplishments.

Nominations were accepted from the Florida Sheriffs Association, the Florida Police Chiefs Association, the Police Benevolent Association, the Fraternal Order of Police and the State Law Enforcement Chiefs' Association. One representative from each association also served as the Selection Committee that recommended the five nominees for consideration for approval by the Governor and Cabinet. A combined induction ceremony for the 2020 and 2021 inductees will be held in late spring in the Capitol Courtyard.

2021 Hall of Fame Nominees

Nathaniel Glover, Jr. joined the law enforcement field in 1966 as a patrolman with the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office. His character and dedication were evident from the beginning, as he received the Police Officer of the Year award four different years. In 1969, he moved from patrol to the detective division as an investigator. He was promoted to sergeant five years later and soon became part of one of the very first hostage negotiation teams in the nation, serving for 11 years. Dr. Glover continued to promote up through the Sheriff's Office and was appointed director of police services in 1991. He was later elected sheriff in 1995, the first African American sheriff to serve in Jacksonville's history. With a desire to enhance the quality and consistency of service provided by the agency, Dr. Glover initiated the complete restructuring of the agency's geographic patrol zones, which spanned roughly 840 square miles. He was also responsible for implementing the Sheriff Advisory Council, which provided a monthly forum for citizens to discuss community needs or concerns, and explore potential solutions directly with members of the agency. Dr. Glover has been widely recognized for his civic leadership and community efforts, both throughout and following his law enforcement career. He retired from the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office in 2003, after two terms as sheriff and 37 distinguished years in law enforcement service.

Irving Heller's commitment to serve others began at the age of 18, when he joined the U.S. Air Force. He attained the rank of sergeant and eventually moved into the Air Force Reserve (followed by the Coast Guard Reserve) while pursuing a career in law enforcement. Heller was hired as a patrol deputy in 1958 with the Dade County Sheriff's Office, now known as Miami-Dade Police Department (MDPD). As he rose through the ranks, he became well-recognized for his tremendous dedication to the community, which fueled many successful community-oriented efforts, including the Drug Abuse Resistance Education (D.A.R.E.) program, the Police Athletic League and several others. For 10 years, he led police football games known as the “Pig Bowls,” which raised funds for charity while strengthening relationships between participating agencies and members of the community. Heller also co-founded MDPD’s Chaplaincy Program in 1997, to offer confidential support and guidance to officers within the department. After 43 years with MDPD, Heller was named chief of North Bay Village Police Department in 2001. Chief Heller retired in 2004 with 46 years in law enforcement, over 44 years in military service and numerous awards recognizing his accomplishments and contributions to his local community. Heller’s inspiring career stands as a powerful reflection of his dedication to the service of others, which he continues to this day.

Sidney R. Klein entered law enforcement in 1963 after three years serving in the U.S. Navy. He started as a patrol deputy with the Dade County Public Safety Department (now the Miami-Dade Police Department). From there, he joined the agency’s specialized investigative units and began working undercover as a narcotics agent. In 1970, Klein moved to Colorado to join the brand-new Lakewood Department of Public Safety. With his dedication, experience and talent, he ascended through the ranks to assistant director in 1978. Klein returned to Florida in 1981 to serve as chief of the Clearwater Police Department, where he became well-known for his innovative responses to local challenges. Throughout his 29 years as chief, he significantly expanded the training opportunities available to department personnel and was dedicated to hearing and meeting the needs of his community. In 1985, Klein received national recognition for the community-oriented policing initiative he implemented and was presented with the International Community Policing Award by the International Association of Chiefs of Police. His hard work continued with the development of many more community outreach programs and non-profits, including the Clearwater Homeless Intervention Project and Operation Apoyo Hispano, which paired private organizations with government resources to assist the community’s most vulnerable populations. Klein retired from the Clearwater Police Department in 2010, after 39 years of law enforcement service. Klein’s recent passing in 2020 leaves behind an incredible legacy of leadership and countless contributions to the communities he served.

Edward M. Spooner began his law enforcement career as a patrol officer with the Tallahassee Police Department upon graduation from the Florida State University in August 1973. His dedication to law enforcement quickly led to the position of director for the Quincy Department of Public Safety in 1979, at only 29 years old. He began serving on numerous commissions with the Florida Police Chiefs Association, and at the age of 38, became the youngest person in the association's history to be elected president. Spooner served on the Florida Parole Commission for seven years, was chief deputy of the Gadsden County Sheriff's Office for six years and spent five years as an administrator with the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE). In 2009, Governor Charlie Crist appointed him as sheriff of Okaloosa County, after the removal of the prior sheriff. Spooner was tasked with conducting an internal investigation on several members of the agency's administration, who were convicted of multiple federal corruption crimes. After a thorough investigation was complete and a new sheriff was elected in 2010, Spooner returned to FDLE as the assistant special agent in charge of the Investigations and Forensic Services Program. The very next year, Spooner was presidentially appointed U.S. Marshal for the Northern District of Florida by President Barack Obama. Spooner concluded his remarkable career in 2016, after 43 years of service in law enforcement.

John Maloney Spottswood was born in Key West, Florida on June 17, 1920. Prior to entering the law enforcement profession, he served his country as a U.S. Army paratrooper during World War II. He was elected sheriff of Monroe County in 1952 and was heavily involved in numerous efforts with the Florida Sheriff's Association. One of these was establishment of the Florida Sheriff's Boys Ranch in Suwanee County, for which he served as chair in the 1950s. Spottswood was named the Association's president in 1957, served as its legislative chair in 1961 and was also on the Sheriffs Star editorial board throughout the 1950s and '60s. One of his many notable accomplishments while sheriff was his proposal for Florida's first ever statewide law enforcement standards, which included standardizing the design of sheriff's office uniforms throughout the state. When Hurricane Donna struck in 1960, Sheriff Spottswood provided the leadership necessary to guide his shaken community through the disaster on the path toward recovery. His engagement in the community extended beyond law enforcement and he was also a fierce civil rights advocate, served as the head of civil defense and served as Key West assistant fire chief for 10 years. In 1963, he was elected to the Florida Senate and went on to serve for four terms. Spottswood passed away in 1975, leaving behind an incredible legacy of historic accomplishments visible to this day.

Jacksonville Sheriff's Office

MIKE WILLIAMS, SHERIFF

Serve • Protect • Community

Florida Sheriffs Association
2617 Mahan Drive
Tallahassee, FL 32308

July 30, 2020

To the Florida Sheriffs Association Committee of Past Presidents,

It is with a great deal of honor and excitement that I submit again to the FSA Committee of Past Presidents the following nomination package for Dr. Nathaniel Glover for the 2021 Florida Law Enforcement Officers' Hall of Fame. Dr. Glover's law enforcement career spans over three decades and is dense with awards and recognitions based on the leadership and the character he continuously demonstrated. As the first African-American sheriff in Florida since Reconstruction, Dr. Glover made history. However, it was during his tenure as Sheriff of Duval County, that he created a legacy; one that continues to serve the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office today.

From 1995-2003, Sheriff Glover envisioned an agency that was accessible to the community of which it served. Up until that time, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office had utilized a "beat system" of 93 separate patrol areas in its approach to managing law enforcement activities for some 840 square miles. Under Sheriff Glover, the geographic patrol zone structure was enhanced. These divergent geographic areas were designed to be managed in the same fashion, thereby allowing for consistency in leadership practices as well as accountability. Sheriff Glover also expanded the number of substations in the city to create one in each patrol zone. No longer did citizens have to commute to the downtown administrative building to conduct police business, they could do so in their own neighborhood zone. Throughout his administration, Sheriff Glover made it his mission to walk in each neighborhood of the city. These "Sheriff's Walks" continue to be a tradition at JSO to this day as they provide an outlet for citizens to meet one-on-one with the Sheriff to discuss crime and crime prevention in their areas.

Another visionary achievement of Sheriff's Glover administration was the creation of the Sheriff Advisory Council (ShAdCo) currently known as Sheriff's Watch. The monthly meetings, in the areas where citizens work and live, were citizen-led and provided an opportunity for face-to-face discussions about neighborhood crime issues and concerns. Police officers of all ranks were encouraged to be active participants with citizens and together, create solutions specific to that neighborhood's needs. These forums instituted a new level of accountability and more importantly, a bond that fostered trust and partnerships between the officers and the community.

After leaving the Sheriff's Office, Dr. Glover went on to initiate the "3+1 Police Academy". The program was designed to increase the number of minorities in Law Enforcement. 3+1 Students graduate with a degree in Criminal Justice and are also eligible to be certified as a Law Enforcement Officer anywhere in the State of Florida. Another facet of the 3+1 Program includes a robust partnership with the Jacksonville Jaguars called "The Nat Glover Scholarship Fund". This is a program allow locals students from underprivileged neighborhoods in Duval County to become enrolled at Edward Waters College Criminal Justice Program.

Dr. Glover continued to garner partnerships from throughout the community even beyond his two terms as Sheriff. He served as a board member of – and helped develop — the New Town Success Zone, an initiative that provides a place-based continuum of service for residents of one of Jacksonville's most challenged urban core neighborhoods. Still in operation today, the Success Zone provides everything from prenatal and well-baby care to college or post-secondary training for children and their families living in New Town, a neighborhood adjacent to Edward Waters College in Jacksonville, Florida.

In the pages provided herein, I submit to the review board the required detailed information regarding Dr. Glover's professional history, his civic contributions as well as his awards and honors. I am confident that after reviewing the entirety of the materials, you will concur that Dr. Nathaniel Glover is a worthy addition to the Florida Law Enforcement Officers' Hall of Fame as he is committed to serving others and remains a shining example of excellence in leadership and character to law enforcement officers for generations to come.

With sincerity,

Mike Williams, Sheriff
Duval County, Florida

Dear Selection Committee:

It is with great pleasure that I write to endorse the nomination of Nathaniel "Nat" Glover, Jr., for the Florida Law Enforcement Officers' Hall of Fame. Sheriff Glover has had a distinguished career in law enforcement and has served as a friend, mentor, and role-model to both myself and the members of his community.

Mr. Glover joined the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office (JSO) in 1966, serving as an investigator in the Detective Division and earning the rank of Sergeant in 1974. In our time working together, Mr. Glover earned the respect of his colleagues through his incredible work ethic, keen detective skills, and his ability to win over the confidence of those he served in Jacksonville's community. In 1991, he was named Director of Police Services, a prominent leadership position in JSO.

In 1995, Mr. Glover was elected as Sheriff of Jacksonville. His election made national news, as he was the first African American elected to the position of Sheriff in Florida since the end of the Reconstruction era. Indicative of his success, he was re-elected to a second term in 1999. During his time as Sheriff, I served JSO as the Director of Corrections and saw first-hand the impact his leadership had on both our organization and community.

Following his time at JSO, Mr. Glover continued to give back to our Jacksonville community by serving on boards and committees focused on helping children achieve success. He served as Special Adviser to UNF President John Delaney and in 2010 he became president of his alma mater, Edward Waters College (EWC), until his retirement in 2018.

Today, Mr. Glover continues to support members of the law enforcement community as an active member of the Fraternal Order of Police and the Brotherhood of Police Officers. He also serves on the Board of Trustees for The Police and Fire Pension Fund and Edward Waters College, ensuring these organizations will continue providing for their members for years to come.

TI heartily endorse the nomination of Jacksonville's former Sheriff and my close friend, Nathaniel Glover Jr.

Sincerely,

To the Florida Sheriffs Association Committee of Past Presidents,

It is with great honor and pride that again, I submit a letter of support for the nomination of Dr. Nathaniel Glover Jr. to the selection committee. It is with this third attempt I urge you to help not only celebrate a fantastic public servant, but also help uplift a community and a people. As I write this letter, I reflect upon these turbulent times our country is now facing and questions on how to build bridges between communities of color and the police.

Surveying Dr. Glover's 37-year career with the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office (JSO), a thread connects throughout service. Dr. Glover began his career in law enforcement in the mid-'60s, during civil unrest and protest, at the height of struggles for equality. When law enforcement itself was changing dramatically, Dr. Glover was still able to work his way through the ranks. When he reached the zenith of his career, he ensured programs were in place to help both the public servant and the communities.

During his decorated tenure with the JSO, Dr. Glover served in multiple capacities and was promoted to the Chief of Services in 1991. His mission of building bridges between law enforcement and the community was realized through programs like Neighborhood Zone and Sheriff's Watch. Elected in 1995 as the first black Sheriff in Florida since the reconstruction era, Dr. Glover was able to expand the footprint of JSO by adding more substations and creating the Sheriff Advisory Council.

True to his character, upon retiring from the Sheriff's Office, Dr. Glover's dedication did not waver. With the creation of "3+1 Police Academy," Dr. Glover would continue to impact the profession by providing an opportunity for individuals from low-income communities to earn a criminal justice degree and certification in Law Enforcement.

He would also go on to serve as President and special advisor of two local universities: the University of North Florida and Edward Waters College. He assisted and prepared students for self-sufficiency through his philosophy of the four P's – Planning, Preparedness, Prayer, and Perseverance.

As a proven leader and caring educator, I can't think of a person more selfless and dedicated to community service. The induction of Dr. Glover to Florida's 2021 Law Enforcement Officers' Hall of Fame would be an honor to the profession.

Sincerely,

Dear Selection Committee,

It is my honor to submit this letter of recommendation in support of Dr. Nathaniel Glover's nomination of being inducted into the 2020 Florida Law Enforcement Officers' Hall of Fame. As a public servant, I have encountered many members of leadership in Jacksonville and throughout the State of Florida. When it comes to community service and influence, one man rises above the rest, Dr. Nathaniel Glover.

Dr. Glover's career in law enforcement began on November 12, 1966, and since his entry into the Jacksonville Sheriffs Office, he has worked diligently contributing to the needs of our city. Serving in various positions including being an investigator in the Detective Division, Patrolman, Chief of Services and several other leadership roles. On April 11, 1995, Dr. Glover made history, as he became the first African-American Sheriff in Florida since Reconstruction. During Glover's period as Sheriff, he donated $240,000 dollars of his pension benefits to a college scholarship fund to benefit Jacksonville students from low-income families.

Perhaps one of the most important qualities that a man can possess is a strong character, which is directly related to having integrity, humanity, and patience. Dr. Glover's temperament speaks volumes through the manner he carried out duties at the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, as a Sergeant, he headed up one of the nation's first negotiation teams from 1975-1986. Then his leadership was proven again, when he was named Director of Police Services, one of the top three positions in the department. In addition to creating two community-based procedures to discuss safety and prevention in crime-ridden neighborhoods, the "Sheriff's Walk" and the "Sheriff's Watch." Lastly, Dr. Glover was awarded Policeman of the Year four times before retiring in 2003.

Equally important, Dr. Glover continues to demonstrate exceptional leadership by providing educational opportunities to students in underprivileged communities. Being a graduate of Duval County Public Schools, Edward Waters College, University of North Florida, and the 130th FBI National Academy, Dr. Glover applies his experiences and professional skills to his day-to-day interactions with Jacksonville's most disadvantaged residents. As an effort to increase minority involvement in Law Enforcement, Dr. Glover created the "3+1 Police Academy," where students from low income communities can earn a Criminal Justice degree and become certified as an officer anywhere in the state. Additionally, Dr. Glover became a special advisor to President Delaney at the University of North Florida. In this role, he promoted higher education, college recruitment, and dropout prevention strategies.

In 2011, Glover was asked to serve as Edward Waters College 29th President. During his tenure as President of Edward Waters College, Dr. Glover and I worked together to secure over $350,000.00 dollars in state funding for the College Promise Program, an initiative to fund 100 first-time college students the chance to earn the all-expense paid Bachelor's Degree. I have closely followed his seven years of distinguished service to the College, and I am in awe of Glover's commitment to institutional development programs to benefit the lives of EWC's students, graduates, faculty, and the surrounding community.

Among other things, Dr. Glover carries out his duty as a servant by remaining actively involved on numerous boards, one of them being, The New Town Success Zone, an initiative Dr. Glover assisted in developing. The Success Zone caters to the community adjacent to Edward Waters College, offering health screenings, food distributions, job training and other wrap-around services to develop a safe and healthy community.

Dr. Glover witnessed young people make mistakes and become offenders placed in the criminal justice system. Because of this, he set out on a mission to prevent the on-going crime cycle by instilling educational and leadership skills into the very same demographic of young men and women. Dr. Glover has remained an iconic leader in Jacksonville and throughout our great state. His esteemed achievements, leadership experience, commitment to service, and diverse professional background make him a phenomenal candidate. I am honored to write in full support of Dr. Nathaniel Glover being recognized as one of Florida's 2020 Law Enforcement Officers' Hall of Fame inductees.

Dear Selection Committee,

I am writing as a 30 year career law enforcement officer and the current president of the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 5 30 in Jacksonville FL. I was hired by the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office (JSO) in 1990 and served under the leadership of Sheriff Nathaniel Glover for eight years. The sheriff rose up through the ranks to become the first African American sheriff in Duval County. The sheriff graduated from Edward Waters College, University of North Florida and the FBI National Academy. The sheriff used his knowledge, skills and abilities he obtained at these fine institutions and his almost forty year career in law enforcement to truly make our agency one of the best in the country. The sheriff invested in training and community policing in order to form a partnership with the community. The JSO is still reaping the benefits of the foundation laid by Sheriff Glover.

Service to the community is in Sheriff Glover's DNA. After a stellar career with the JSO the sheriff went on to be the president of Edward Waters College. The sheriff took over at a time of turmoil and an accreditation scandal. The sheriff quickly turned around the focus at the college, increasing enrollment and investing in infrastructure. This quickly put the college on a track to success, similar to what the sheriff did with JSO.

The respect Sheriff Glover earned by those he led for so many years is still talked about today. When the sheriff walks into any room he commands respect, not because of a title but because of the legacy of service and professionalism he exhibited. Sheriff Glover always told us to "do the right thing". I am humbly asking you to give Sheriff Glover the honor of being in the Hall of Fame and I am asking the nominating committee to "do the right thing".

Respectfully,

Steve Zona, President

It is my honor to submit this letter of recommendation in support of Dr. Nathaniel Glover being nominated into the 2020 Florida Law Enforcement Officers' Hall of Fame. I, more than most, have had the opportunity to witness Nat Glover's law enforcement career firsthand from its beginning to its conclusion. Nat and I were police recruits in 1966 in the same police academy class. We have known each other and been friends since. He exhibited a burning desire to serve his community and the citizens of Jacksonville from the very beginning. Nat has done so in an exemplary manner. That can be said of him in every facet of his career, whether it be patrolman, detective, sergeant, Chief of Police Services or Director of Police Services. I had the good fortune of appointing Nat to serve on my staff as Director of Police Services. This is one of the top three positions in the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office. His leadership abilities came to light in that position as well and I am sure helped prepare him to become the first African American Sheriff in the State of Florida since Reconstruction.

Nat's desire to serve his community and its' citizens did not end with his law enforcement career. He earned his doctorate and was assistant to John Delaney at the University of North Florida helping young men and women to obtain a college degree. He then went on to become President of Edward Waters College. A college that was his alma mater, where he was an outstanding football player and graduate. I often tell him I do not know if I should address him as Sheriff, Doctor, or President; so I just call him my good friend, Nat.

Nathaniel Glover definitely deserves to be in the Florida Law Enforcement Hall of Fame. He has been an outstanding public servant and if there was a Hall of Fame for being an outstanding human being, he would be my nominee for that also.

Sincerely,

Retired Sheriff Jim McMiller

Re: Florida Law Enforcement Officers' Hall of Fame

Executive Director Amy Mercer,

It is with great pleasure that I submit this application nominating Chief (ret) Irving "Red" Heller to the Florida Law Enforcement Officers' Hall of Fame. My name is David De La Espriella and I am the current President of the Miami-Dade County Association of Chiefs of Police (MDCACP). Chief Heller has been a member of MDCACP since 1971 (forty-nine (49) years). He has been the Sergeant at Arms for approximately twenty (20) years and the Chaplain for approximately fifteen (15) years. His commitment to law enforcement, and his community, is unmatched and I cannot think of anyone more deserving for this honor than Chief Heller.

I have known Chief Heller since I became a member of the MDCACP over ten (10) years ago and have worked closely with him since my election to the Executive Board four (4) years ago. During that time, Chief Heller has played an instrumental role in my career development, serving as a mentor to me in not only my leadership role on the Executive Board, but also throughout my career at the Miami Beach Police Department.

What has most impressed me about Chief Heller is his genuine desire to make himself available to anyone that seeks his advice and counsel. Chief Heller continues to be dedicated to serving the community in every way possible and continuously preaches the importance of civic responsibility by his words, and more importantly, by his actions. His faith, leadership and commitment to the esprit de corps of our profession are unquestionable and fundamental to Chief Heller's character. As a result, the law enforcement profession in South Florida respects Chief Heller and can count on him to be willing and able to provide input, guidance and/or advice whenever called.

Chief Heller began his law enforcement career with the Miami-Dade Police Department (originally called the Dade County Sheriff's Office) in 1958. Throughout his forty-three (43) year career with the department, Chief Heller rose through the ranks and retired in 2001 as the Assistant Director of Support Services/Police Services. The following is a recap of his assignments throughout his career:

- Road Patrol Deputy/Officer;
- Sergeant of Road Patrol and the Traffic Homicide Unit;
- Lieutenant of Internal Affairs, Aviation and Animal Control Units;
- Captain of Investigations, Special Enforcement Section (Motorcycle Unit, Aviation Unit, Marine Patrol Unit, and Hit and Run Unit), Robbery & Sexual Battery Bureau and the Training Bureau;
- District Commander of the Intracoastal Station;
- Major of the Intracoastal Station;

- Colonel of the North Operations Division;
- Chief of North Operations Division/Sheriff Services Division;
- Assistant Director of Support Services/Police Services.

During his 43 years of distinguished and honorable service with Miami-Dade Police Department (MDPD), Chief Heller worked extensively with various citizen advisory committees and was instrumental in implementing many successful community-oriented programs that impacted the lives of community youth. These programs included Police Explorers, Police Athletic League, Partners for Youth, and the Drug Abuse Resistance Education (D.A.R.E.) Program.

In 1997, Chief Heller co-founded the Chaplaincy Program within the MDPD. Bound by confidentiality, assistance was made available to police personnel for problems concerning spiritual guidance and well-being.

Chief Heller served for many years as the Chairman of the "Pig Bowl" charity football games. These events consisted of a series of football games; whose teams were comprised of police officers from various jurisdictions. The games enhanced police-community relations and strengthened ties between large metropolitan cities and police departments that participated. His 10-year leadership with the "Pig Bowls" netted over $900,000.00 for worthy charities.

After retiring from the MDPD, Chief Heller became Chief of Police for the North Bay Village Police Department from 2001-2004. During his tenure, Chief Heller was instrumental in modernizing that agency and transitioning the agency into the Florida Retirement System.

The following is a small sample of the awards/recognition Chief Heller has received throughout his law enforcement career:

- 2003 Police Benevolent Association (PBA) Chief of the Year for his time as Chief in North Bay Village Police Department;
- 2004 South Florida Shomrim Law Enforcement Officer of the Year;
- 2004 Florida Sheriffs Association Lifetime Honorary Membership;
- 2007 Miami Beach Senior High School Hall Fame Inductee. Inducted for his accomplishments in the law enforcement profession and his contributions to his community;
- 2012 South Florida Shomrim Society Man of the Year;
- Miami-Dade County Association of Chiefs of Police Lifetime Achievement Award;
- 2018 Miami-Dade Law Enforcement (LEO) Achievement Award for a distinguished career in Law Enforcement.

Chief Heller's commitment and dedication to selfless service was not limited to his law enforcement career. In addition to his duties as a law enforcement professional for forty-six (46) years, Chief Heller also served his country in the following capacities:

- United States Air Force Sergeant – Served four (4) years active duty during the Korean conflict as a flight engineer on heavy aircraft bombers;
- United States Air Force Reserve – Served for ten (10) years assigned to Homestead Air Force Base;

- United States Coast Guard Reserve – Served for over thirty (30) years as a Chief Petty Officer assigned to Coast Guard Base Miami Beach.

As if forty-six (46) years of total law enforcement commitment to his community, and his concurrent military service to the United States of America wasn't enough, the following is a list of CURRENT volunteer activities that Chief Heller, at age eighty-seven (87) still participates in:

- Sergeant at Arms/Chaplain for the Miami-Dade County Association of Chiefs of Police (<https://mdcacp.com/#executive-board>);
- Co-Founder/current member of the South Florida Shomrim Society (Organization comprised of law enforcement members of the Jewish faith);
- President of the Citizens Crime Watch of Miami;
- Board member for the Town of Davie Fire Pension Board.

Chief Heller's legacy of service and commitment to community has already materialized through the passing on of these selfless qualities to his progeny. [REDACTED] Chief Heller's daughter, also served and retired as a Miami Dade Police Department Officer. [REDACTED], Chief Heller's son, also served in the Miami Dade Police Department retiring in 2016 at the rank of Assistant Director. [REDACTED] Chief Heller's daughter-in-law and Randy Heller's wife also served in the Miami-Dade Police Department and retired at the rank of Captain. As if two generations weren't enough, [REDACTED] Heller's son, [REDACTED] has also joined the Miami Dade Police Department in 2016 and is wearing the same badge number that Chief Heller wore throughout his career. The Heller tradition and legacy continues, and the residents of Miami-Dade County are better because of it.

In 2016, the local NBC news station (NBC6) ran a story that described this legacy. The story can be watched by following this link: 3 Generations of Family Serve Miami-Dade Police. (hyperlink:<https://www.nbcmiami.com/news/local/3-generations-of-family-serve-miami-dade-police/104617/>).

There is much more information that can be written about Chief Heller's career in law enforcement and his civic activities but there is a limit to the length of this nomination packet. Chief Heller's journey of service to his fellow man began at age 18 when he joined the Air Force and continues today after sixty-nine (69) years. God willing, Chief Heller will continue his life mission of dedication and service of others and will continue to pass on this passion through his counsel and deeds, to the generations that follow.

It is my honor to submit this application for your consideration. If there are any questions, please feel free to contact me.

Respectfully,

David De La Espriella, President

To the HOF Committee:

I am delighted to forward my support and recommendation of retired Deputy Director and Police Chief Irving Heller for the prestigious Hall of Fame award. Irv Heller has been a force within South Florida law enforcement, both active and retired, for over 55 plus years. Even after his career, he has continued to maintain active roles in the most impacting organizations involving law enforcement.

The most identifying characteristic of Irving Heller is the mentoring of law enforcement officers and officials throughout his career and life. Countless protégés of his have become leaders of their departments and beyond, including that of the Dade Chiefs of Police association.

Ask anyone about Irving Heller and you will get only positive comments regarding his persona, his mentor ship and his professionalism. He has treated everyone like a son or daughter throughout his career, always looking out for their best interests and supporting them in their goals. It would be of great satisfaction to see Irving Heller amongst those on the wall for the Florida Criminal Justice Hall of Fame. 'God Squad' chaplains lighten stress on job

BY D. AILEEN DODD
adodd@herald.com

The Miami-Dade Police Department is looking to the pulpit to fight crime in the streets and stress in the patrol car. It is recruiting 20 Bible-toting clergy to ride in police cars and respond to distress calls.

This "God Squad" comes with badges and bulletproof vests.

The recruitment drive is an effort to save Miami-Dade's flagging police chaplaincy program, which started 11 years ago with a rabbi, priest and Baptist minister and lost steam as pastors retired or moved on.

Organizers are looking to hire and train at least two ministers willing to serve as volunteers in each of the county's eight police districts. They hope to launch the program in early fall.

"I don't want the chaplains just to be there for ceremonial purposes," said Irving Heller, assistant director of the police department. He wants them to help officers handle sensitive issues in their jobs and work with clinical psychologists in the department.

The new chaplain's program will be coordinated by Dr. Scott Allen, supervisor of psychological services for Miami-Dade Police.

More law enforcement agencies are looking to expand their chaplaincy programs as part of community policing, which is credited with helping to curb crime in South Florida.

Pastors with chaplains' badges in Hollywood, Coral Springs and Miami Beach help police break the news of deaths to families, and give whistleblowers a trusted confidant to turn to and crime victims a shoulder to cry on. In some cases, chaplains can even defuse tense situations by appealing to the morality and spirituality of perpetrators.

"The clergyman does not present a threat," said Rabbi Phineas Weberman, pastor of Ohev Shalom Congre-

3 Generations of Family Serve Miami-Dade Police

By Amanda Plasencia • Published September 15, 2016 • Updated on September 15, 2016 at 6:47 pm

Generation after generation, it's all in the family for the Heller Bolingers. Between all of them they've worked at the Miami-Dade Police Department going all the way back to 1958.

There's two grandfathers, a husband and wife, an aunt and now a son in the academy, all working for the department at one point in time. From the past, present and now the future there must be something in their genes, as this family has been dedicated to public service and protecting the community in Miami.

While the family has a long history in police work they actually tried to steer their youngest, Justin, away from law enforcement at first but they are filled with pride that he's in the police academy and hope to continue their legacy with the department.

"I am proud of my grandson, I'm proud of my family, I'm proud of the Hellers, I'm proud of the Bolingers and let's just continue doing what we do and what we do best is have respect for our community, for the Miami-Dade Police Department and our nation," said Erve "Red" Heller, retired assistant director of Miami-Dade Police.

When Justin graduates from the academy in a few weeks he will also share the same badge number, 64, as his grandfather and father.

SIDNEY R. KLEIN
FLORIDA LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS'
HALL OF FAME

Chief Sid Klein is a worthy candidate for the Florida Police Chiefs Association to nominate and select for entry into the Florida Law Enforcement Officers' Hall of Fame. Chief Klein's 47-year law enforcement career is full of notable accomplishments achieved through strong leadership and foresight into community needs. Chief Klein was a creator or early adopter of emerging best practices in community-oriented policing, technology and the development of public and private partnerships that fostered a safe community and reduced the fear of crime.

Chief Klein grew up in New York City, but relocated to Miami, eventually joining the United States Navy. In 1963, after serving in the Navy, Chief Klein became a sheriff's deputy in Dade County, the infant stages of a law enforcement career that would last nearly five decades. During his seven-year career as a Dade County sheriff's deputy, Chief Klein demonstrated a talent for undercover narcotics investigations and an affinity to lead.

In 1970, Chief Klein was recruited to join the newly created Lakewood Police Department in Colorado. Chief Klein's undercover narcotics experience was immediately put to use in Lakewood. The organization was under resourced, but full of talent as many gifted, lateral professionals joined this start-up agency in Lakewood that was known for promoting education, being innovative, not fearing failure and excelling in building teams. Chief Klein quickly rose through the ranks at the Lakewood Police Department, elevating to the rank of assistant director of public safety in 1978.

Three years later -- On Jan. 5, 1981 -- Chief Klein was selected after a nationwide search as the Clearwater Police Department's 11th chief of police; he would serve as chief in Clearwater for a remarkable 29 years. Chief Klein quickly transitioned the Clearwater Police Department into a learning organization that was innovative and progressive.

One example of this was Chief Klein's introduction of community-oriented policing in 1985 to Clearwater's North Greenwood neighborhood. Chief Klein stressed that a community policing team needed to be a part of the community; that team worked with residents to address problems, a model that expanded into six other neighborhoods. To accomplish this, Chief Klein established a police substation in the heart of the community that had a dedicated team of police professionals charged with fostering a cooperative spirit to identify and address issues. The Clearwater Police Department today benefits from a culture of trust with the residents in the North Greenwood area that was built on the foundation that Chief Klein created in 1985. Chief Klein was recognized in 1999 by the International Association of Chiefs of Police with the International Community Policing Award for advancing community policing philosophies.

Chief Klein's community policing strategy was not the only method he used to develop a strong awareness of community concerns. He conducted annual citizen surveys to identify the needs of the community and made resource deployments and assignments based on the results of those surveys. Chief Klein instituted a citizen's police academy and a police volunteer program, things that are now common practice in law enforcement. He used those programs as mechanisms to communicate with citizens.

It may be difficult to recall, but prior to the proliferation of social media, the television was a resource under-utilized by law enforcement to connect with the community. Chief Klein utilized the city of Clearwater access to a government cable television channel to start a television show called "Blueline CPD." The show was presented in the format of a guest/interview format, and showcased work of the Clearwater Police Department and timely topics such as women in policing or episodes about police specialty services. The show was lauded as a community outreach innovation and was the most-watched production on the city of Clearwater's government access channel.

Chief Klein's approach to community problems included mastering the practice of partnership policing, which was exemplified in his strategy to address homelessness. In 1998, Chief Klein collaborated with social service partners, private organizations and government resources to establish the Clearwater Homeless Intervention Project (CHIP). This project did more than offer shelter and food to the homeless. It provided job placement, counseling, access to computers and other resources to work on solving the challenges leading to homelessness. Chief Klein served as the president of this independent non-profit until his retirement.

Chief Klein responded in an agile way to bridge a growing divide between the police department and a surging immigrant population from Mexico. To address a lack of trust in the police department and issues associated with immigration status, Chief Klein again brought together public-private organizations to engage the immigrant community and to ensure that the public safety needs of this vulnerable population were met. Operation Apoyo Hispano was created in partnership with the local YMCA and allowed for the police department to be able to address domestic violence issues, Hispanic victims of violent crime and establish a partnership to provide much-needed translation services. Operation Apoya Hispano evolved to address additional emerging topics such as human trafficking and wage theft. This program was cited by the University of Nebraska's Police Professionalism Initiative as a model police/community outreach program.

Underneath Chief Klein's arm of professional development, more than a dozen Clearwater Police Department employees went on to become police chiefs. Chief Klein believed that a chief of police needed to deal with politics without being a politician, focusing on the four P's: People, Personnel, Press and Politicians. He believed a chief of police needed to keep the needs of all four of these groups in balance; he did just that throughout his nearly five decades in law enforcement, and he helped to shape the careers of countless other police officers. It is for the accomplishments listed above, and for many others not listed, that we ask the Florida Police Chiefs Association to support a nomination for Chief Sid Klein to be supported, posthumously, for entry into the Florida Law Enforcement Officers' Hall of Fame.

Florida Department of Law Enforcement

Hall of Fame Nomination

Ed Spooner

In Ed Spooner's 43 years of law enforcement service, he served as Chief/Sheriff/Assistant Special Agent in Charge for Florida Department of Law Enforcement, and most recently the United States Marshal for the Northern District of Florida. Ed attended Florida State University, interned with Tallahassee Police Department, and graduated with a Bachelor's Degree in Criminal Justice in 1973. Upon graduation, Ed started his law enforcement career with the Tallahassee Police Department.

In 1979, at just 29 years old, he was named Director of Public Safety for the City of Quincy, Florida. Shortly after his employment began, Ed joined the Florida Police Chief's Association and served on several committees including the Board of Directors. At only 38 years old, his peers elected him to serve as President of the Florida Police Chief's Association. Ed was the youngest person to be elected in the history of the Association. So respectful and thoughtful, Chief Spooner was asked to serve as the Interim Executive Director charged with running the Florida Police Chief's Association and then responsible for the selection of the permanent Director, Former Chief and Florida Police Chief's Association icon, Willis Booth.

In October 1991, Chief Spooner was selected and served full-time on the Florida Parole Commission through 1998. He also served as the Commission's Chairman from 1996 through 1998. In October 1998, Ed was recruited and served as the Chief Deputy of the Gadsden County Sheriff's Office and occupied the position until November 2004. Upon his departure from Gadsden County, Ed was recruited to work as the Administrator for the Florida Department of Law Enforcement until 2009 at which time Governor Charlie Crist appointed Ed to serve as the Sheriff of Okaloosa County. Ed was humbled and accepted the position due to the then current Sheriff, along with several Command Staff members including the Chief Deputy, were removed from office after being charged and convicted with numerous federal crimes that included theft of more than one million dollars Federal Grant and tax payer funds. After Ed completed a thorough internal investigation resulting in numerous charges, he left office once a new Sheriff was elected and returned to the Florida Department of Law Enforcement as the Assistant Special Agent in Charge.

In October 2011, Ed was Presidentially appointed as the United States Marshal for the Northern District of Florida. Due to medical issues, Ed retired in 2016 with 43 years in law enforcement. Ed Spooner had both an illustrious career as a law enforcement professional and a highly regarded civic leader in the State of Florida. He is most deserving of the recognition of being placed into the State of Florida Law Enforcement Officers' "Hall of Fame".

Florida Law Enforcement Officers Hall of Fame Nomination

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Committee:

With great respect and honor I, Sheriff Rick Ramsay, nominate Sheriff (deceased) John Maloney Spottswood to be considered for the Florida Law Enforcement Officers Hall of Fame.

Summary of the nominee's professional law enforcement history, awards, and honors:

- Sheriff of Monroe County 1952 – 1963
- President of the Florida Sheriffs Association, 1957
- Chair of the Florida Sheriffs Boy's Ranch, late 1950s
- Florida Sheriffs Association Legislative Chair, 1961
- Member of the Sheriffs Star editorial Board, 1950s & '60s

Sheriff, later Senator, Spottswood was born in Key West, Florida on June 17th, 1920 and died September 27th, 1975. Sheriff Spottswood was elected sheriff of Monroe County on January 15th, 1952 and served until January 4th, 1963. After his service as sheriff, he was elected to the Florida Senate serving from January 3rd, 1963 until January 3rd, 1971. He was an original "Conch," with his lineage being traced back to Colonel Walter C. Maloney, Sr. who arrived in the Keys in the 1820s and served as the Monroe County Clerk of the Court, Mayor, and State Legislator.

Sheriff Spottswood enlisted in the U.S. Army and served as a paratrooper in the Philippines during World War II. After being discharged, he returned to Key West and established the first radio station in Key West in 1945; WKWF. He married Mary Myrtle Sellers in 1949. He and Mary became friends with President Harry S. Truman who was a frequent visitor in Key West. President Truman's "Little White House" is now an historical site. During their visits, he arranged for Mrs. Truman to hear radio concert broadcasts from New York on his radio station.

Being an entrepreneur, he established Cable-Vision, Inc. in 1957. This was one of the first cable television systems in the U.S. and led to the development of modern cable television nationally. In the 1960s he established his own real estate company, Spottswood and Sons, which bought the La Concha and Casa Marina hotels and still exists today. Additionally, he was president of the Florida Association of Realtors May 21st, 1962 through September 27th, 1975.

He was elected sheriff of Monroe County on January 15th, 1952. During that time he was one of the sheriffs that envisioned and developed the Florida Sheriff's Boys Ranch in Suwannee county and spoke at the groundbreaking ceremony. He was extremely active with the Florida Sheriffs Association, was a past president, a past chair of the Boy's Ranch, and past chair of the legislative committee. As chair of the legislative committee he crafted countless bills, most of which passed and are still in the statutes. In 1961, he wrote 14 legislative bills with 13 passing.

He was sheriff during one of the worst recorded hurricanes, Hurricane Donna, in 1960. His leadership navigated the devastated community through this difficult time. Additionally, as a civic leader and humanitarian, he served as the Key West assistant fire chief for ten years as well as the head of civil defense. While modernizing the sheriff's office, he proposed the first statewide standards for law enforcement officers in Florida focusing also on standardizing sheriffs' offices with a uniform badge and uniform colors.

Sheriff Spottswood was also a fierce supporter of civil rights. In the 1950s and early 1960s, at the height of the infamous Florida Legislative Johns Committee hearings that sought to investigate and expose gays and lesbians in university faculties, he took a firm stance in opposition to these hearings.

In 1962, he was instrumental in getting Warner Brothers to film the movie "PT 109," the story of President John Kennedy's tour of duty in the Solomon Islands during World War II, in the Keys. He acted in the movie as one of the PT Boat skippers.

Elected to the state Senate in 1963, he continued to partner with the Florida Sheriffs Association and was awarded a lifetime membership. In 1964, he was the installing officer for the Florida Sheriffs Association officers and was the principle speaker at the Winter Conference. In 1965, the Florida Sheriffs Association presented him with a resolution honoring his service.
