

Recidivism in Corrections

Ana A. Centeno

The intention of this research was to identify some factors that affect recidivism in the City of Opa-Locka and Carol City Florida. An overview of the changes in corrections in the last thirty years was conducted and an analysis was completed. Data was collected utilizing a survey and the information gleaned will possibly provide recommendations, which will diminish the problem of recidivism.