

Officer Discipline
November 6 - 9, 2017
Hyatt Regency Sarasota
1000 Boulevard of the Arts
Sarasota, FL 34236

Officer Discipline is (a 28 hour course) designed to provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of the various aspects of management issues relating to officer misconduct, internal affairs investigations, and the discipline process. An effective officer discipline process requires a credible investigation conducted without bias and in accordance with professional practices, agency policy, and current laws. Using a combination of lecture and case studies, Officer Discipline delivers useful information for evaluating agency policies and procedures, as well as defining the role of the agency chief executive, the internal affairs investigator, police unions, and the Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission (CJSTC) in the discipline process.

Concepts such as: officer misconduct, administration of positive (corrective rather than punitive) discipline, the impact of labor laws, the role of police unions, the impact of recent court decisions, the Attorney General's opinions on the discipline process, management of internal affairs investigations, reporting requirements of the CJSTC, and management of revocation proceedings will all be discussed.

Comments from past attendees

"One of the best presentations of the officer discipline process I have ever attended . . . helped me to re-evaluate our procedures and make corrections."

". . . this course was very well planned and organized. Information will be used to revise policies and procedures in my agency."

"The systematic approach was great. It gave great knowledge of how to make sure the process is carried out correctly. "

"This class will help me improve my department's IA process and to write policies and procedures with current court decisions as guidelines".

Instructors:

Jay Romine began his career with the Holmes Beach Police Department as a part-time patrol officer in 1979. Since that time, he served as a patrol officer, patrol sergeant, detective sergeant, lieutenant, assistant chief of police and served as the chief of police from July 1993 until his retirement in January of 2013. In May of 2013, Mr. Romine was appointed as the Director of the Law Enforcement Academy at Manatee Technical College in Bradenton, FL, where he continues to serve.

Richard Lober specializes in training for law enforcement officers, correctional officers and investigators for government agencies. Over more than twenty years, he has taught thousands of officers, investigators, supervisors and police managers across the country.
