Good Afternoon Sir,

The instrument in question is no longer at this organization, I sent intoxilyzer 80001232 in for the annual inspection the instrument powered down and never powered back up again in your custody. My department decided they were not going to pay to have it fixed due to the cost of the instrument being old and costly, they decided to purchase a new one. The instrument remained in FDLE custody and it wasn't returned to the organization. I only have one instrument at this time, which is 80001205 and it is up and running.
