

2017 Annual Report

VIOLENT CRIME AND DRUG CONTROL COUNCIL

Submitted by Florida Department of Law Enforcement

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Message from Commissioner Richard L. Swearingen

The Florida Violent Crime and Drug Control Council, in partnership with state, county and local law enforcement, continues to play an integral role in supporting criminal investigations, helping ensure the safety and security of Florida's communities and visitors. Since its inception in 1993, the Council has initiated and supported legislation to improve the overall quality of life for Florida's citizens and visitors.

The Council oversees four individual funding categories: violent crime investigations, drug control and money laundering investigations, criminal gang investigations, and victim/witness protection reimbursement. Due to budgetary constraints, the Council has only funded victim/witness protection reimbursement requests since September 2008.

In 2017, the Legislature continued authorization for FDLE to use trust funds to support victim/witness protection reimbursement requests. The Council funded 29 victim/witness protection and relocation reimbursement requests totaling $84,222.54 in 2017. These totals decreased compared to 2016 funding of 37 victim/witness protection reimbursement requests totaling $86,947.94.

Overview of Funding and Council Meetings

Pursuant to Florida Statutes, the Council held one open conference meeting in June 2017 to address the future of the Council and victim/witness protection reimbursement cases funded.

The Council's six-member Victim and Witness Protection Review Committee held three closed conference meetings in March, June, and September 2017. The Committee approved 29 reimbursement funding requests for a total of $84,222.54.

FDLE continues to maintain the Council's website as a valuable source of information for the public and law enforcement community. The website contains information on Council membership, upcoming meetings, regional contacts, online forms and applications, and step-by-step application procedures.

2017 FISCAL SUMMARY

Florida Statutes require all agencies awarded Council funds to complete a report on all active/open violent crime and drug funded cases every six months. The completed report, which is provided to FDLE by the receiving agency, must detail the expenditure of Council funds during the reporting period. If a previously open/active case is closed during the reporting period, the agency must submit a final report and closing letter to FDLE. All unspent funds must be returned to the State of Florida. There were no open/active violent crime or drug cases in 2017.

The chart below summarizes the 2017 victim/witness protection reimbursement activity.

Victim/Witness Protection Reimbursement Funding (January 1 - December 31, 2017)
