Sexual Battery is a Crime

In Florida, the legal term for rape is sexual battery (F.S. 794.011). Sexual battery means oral, anal, or female genital penetration by, or union with, the sexual organ of another or the anal or female genital penetration of another by any other object, committed without your consent.

Consent means intelligent, knowing, and voluntary consent and does not include coerced submission. Failure to offer physical resistance to the offender does not imply consent. If you are under 16 years of age, consent cannot be used as a defense to a sexual assault crime. Further, a 16- or 17-year-old cannot legally consent to sexual activity with a person in a position of familial or custodial authority, or a person over 24 years of age.

What if I fear for my safety?

If you fear for your safety or fear offender contact, you can seek an injunction, sometimes referred to as a restraining order or protection order. F.S. 784.046

- Parents or legal guardians can file on behalf of victims under 18 years of age
- To obtain the injunction, you or your guardian must report the crime to law enforcement and cooperate in any criminal proceeding against the offender
- You may also seek an injunction against an offender who has been released from jail or prison or who will be released within 90 days
- Filing for an injunction is free
- The application can be made at a local courthouse with the application can be made at a local courthouse with assistance from an advocate and/or the county clerk.

What is a medical forensic exam?

The MFE is a head-to-toe exam to collect evidence and check for injuries after a sexual assault. The examiner may conduct an exam of the genital area where contact may have occurred. Any evidence collected during the exam will be stored as part of a kit.

What are my rights with regard to the MFE?

- Choose to receive or participate in all or parts of the exam
- Stop the exam at any time
- Have an advocate from a certified rape crisis center with you at the exam
- If you choose to report to law enforcement at the time of the exam, be informed about the tracking status of the kit during processing, and any results of the analysis
- If you choose not to report to law enforcement at the time of your exam, your kit will be stored anonymously for up to 50 years

By law, medical providers cannot charge you for the forensic exam, even if you have insurance, and even if you don't report the crime to law enforcement. F.S. 960.28

Will I be prescribed any medication?

If indicated, the medical professional will offer you medication to protect you from certain sexually transmitted infections including HIV, and refer you to follow-up medical care. You will also be offered emergency contraception, if indicated.

What evidence is collected?

Evidence is anything that can be used to prove or disprove a fact in a legal proceeding. As it relates to a medical forensic exam, evidence is usually in the form of DNA collected from a victim or injuries observed during the examination. During the exam, the medical a professional may ask to swab your skin and/or genital area using a Q-tip type swab and collect blood and/or urine samples. They may also ask to collect items of your clothing. If there are visible injuries, pictures may be taken. They will also ask you questions about the assault and your medical history.

What happens to the evidence?

If you make a report to law enforcement, your kit will be sent to the regional or statewide lab within 30 days for testing. The lab is required to process the kit within 120 days. F.S. 943.326

You are entitled to access tracking information, testing status, and notification of DNA matches to a person deemed by investigators to be a suspect or person of interest. After the exam, you'll be given a card that provides you with a log-in to a secure kit tracking database. Additional information about the database can be found at <http://www.fdle.state.fl.us/Forensics>

If you don't report the crime to law enforcement at the time of your exam, your kit will be stored anonymously and will not be tested. You may change your mind and decide to report the crime at a later date. If so and depending on the timeframe, your kit may be converted and processed by the lab for possible prosecution.
